SIX MILE RANCH

Genetic Focus

RED & BLACK ANGUS FEMALES AND GENETICS

Welcome

Welcome to the 2024 edition of our Genetic Focus Production Sale! Every year, as we prepare for this sale, we are reminded how blessed we are to be a part of the agriculture industry.

Time flies. This is the 10th Edition of the Genetic Focus. Ten years of selecting only our best stock to represent the Six Mile program. Decades of breeding decisions, crossing fingers on preg-check morning, dusty days in the barn halter breaking, weeks spent in the picture pen, nights laying out the sale book and numerous catalog proofs.

On the Six Mile team, we can all agree on one thing; we are DAMN proud of this set of cattle. Some operations may “dig deep” into their replacement pen to assemble their sale group, but at Six Mile we “skim the top”. Only the best make the cut for the Genetic Focus. We are fortunate enough to be able to select from 250+ heifer calves, 160+ bred heifers, and nearly 550 momma cows to put together a truly elite set of Red and Black Angus Females. Rest assured- we hold nothing back.

We stand with these cattle. They are our livelihood. These females are raised in a demanding environment where strength of structure, fleshing ability and a will to live are necessary to survive. Longevity is bred into the Six Mile program.

We look forward to hosting you at our ranch on November 16th, 2024. Again, this sale will be broadcast online at www.dlms.ca with online bidding available for those unable to attend in person. If we can be of assistance, please do not hesitate to contact any of our talented and hard-working Six Mile team members. We will always provide our honest opinion.

Sincerely,

Tyson Hertz & the Entire 6M Crew

Other daughters have found new homes at Maple Oaks (MO), Wilbar Cattle (SK) and Reverse GC (AB). Enid 126E offers a diverse pedigree with unlimited mating flexibility.

Due 02/14/25 and will be ready for embryo production in early April. She can be flushed at a mutually agreed upon embryo production facility in Canada OR the USA.

This is an exquisite bovine. Marta 295M is the first and only NIO Mojave female on offer this fall, stemming from the high-octane Six Mile Marta 238C donor. Mojave sent shock waves through the Red Angus world in the spring of 2023, where he commanded a record-setting $215,000 USD to Six Mile and Sandridge. No semen was sold, and no embryos were sold. The only access to his genetic prowess is through his offspring. This March-born female checks all the boxes. Bid to own.

Our office manager, Rae Tutor, bought the dam of Lot 11 as a bred in last year's Genetic Focus sale. After we calved her out, I mentioned to Rae that maybe this sporty heifer calf and her momma should stick around Six Mile through the summer to see how the calf progresses... The calf did good, like REALLY good. I like this one more and more every day. She will be on a lot of short lists on sale day.

This Wick daughter has some remarkably unique pieces for the Red Angus breed. She offers an extra shot of bone, frame and length, added soft shag and great running gear. If managed correctly, she will hang a lot of banners and end up as a really cool breeding piece when her show career is over.

I dig this female. Her neck-to-body ratio is unreal. Big legs, open and pried apart in her rib and hip yet so chiselled, elegant and tidy up front. When my feed salesman brother (who really doesn't care much about show cattle) catches a glimpse of her and says, "She's out there, ain't she?," it's fairly evident that Angus females are not built like this every day.

Another Vegas heifer that is crisp in her lines and very attractive. She needs a shot more time to grow and mature, but I still really like the pieces this one puts together. Use her for a solid breeding piece to make good footed, sound and predictable stock. Her dam is a big footed, stout constructed Diesel daughter with extra power and body length

Here's a shapely, good built Barricade daughter who was an early standout through the summer. Her dam is a large outlined, long spined, youthful cow that has daughters working for JD Pastures and Beerbray Farms.

Third Generation SIX MILE dam

Lot 60 is super maternal and balanced in her design. Now, my definition of “balanced” may be different than yours. To me, “balanced” is when a bovine is set in motion, and everything works together seamlessly. All the joints work in unison with comfort, ease and a high level of athleticism. Another one that might not hang any banners, but will pay for the shiny (or gravel chipped) stock trailer when she hits production.
